JUST IN CASE YOU WONDERED

People keep asking questions about how the church works. Trinity is a United Methodist congregation. Our book of church law is called The Discipline. We are a representative form of government. This means that, by in large, Committee Chairs guide our life together. They set the slate of volunteers and establish the allocations of funds we have to fulfill our programs and missions. Because we've been asking some interesting questions, I want to offer 4 gatherings on different committees. I will start with lecture and move into questions and answers. The first gathering will be on the office of "The Pastor". This will be on Tuesday the 17th at 7:30 pm. The next meeting will be on "Finance and Trustees" on the 31st at 7:30 pm. On August 7th, the topic will be "Administrative Council", and then by the end of the month I will have a meeting on "SPR (Staff-Parish Relations)". So incase you wondered, please come.

REV. TERESA KEEZEL

IT'S SUMMERTIME!!!

Yes, it is....And for me this means Charge Conference prep. So I am working on Nominations and John is starting to work on budget estimates. If you have a position, let me know if you want to keep it, give it up, or swap it. If you do not have a position, and you would like to help somewhere, please let me know. We are looking for Sunday School teachers. The commitment is for one year. If you have a heart for children of any age, and believe that helping them have a relationship with God is important, consider serving in this way.

WHAT IS THAT?

In the back of the sanctuary is a room that has a sofa, some chairs, and a small table. As our children are growing, they are growing more active. We are trying to meet everyone's needs. So, if your child just can't sit still, but nursery isn't an option, please feel free to take them to this space. There are crayons and some quiet items. For those of us whose children are past this stage, we are looking for children's Christian books. Please remember an adult does need to be with the child at all times, and please straighten up the space as you leave.

A YEAR IN REVIEW

Can you believe it has been a year? Wow!! It's been a busy year. Last summer the adult mission trip; this summer the youth mission trip. Pumpkin patches, festivals, apple butter, and more. We have grown in numbers by about 20% (keep welcoming and loving). With the growth has come some tightness in sharing space. This is both literal space and time. I made a decision to allow the 8:30 am service to be a complete service. Like the 11 am service, it runs about an hour and fifteen minutes. With the growth in numbers of people has come expense of programming. So we are sorting out time, space, and resources.

MISSIONS COMMITTEE

BETH WILKES

Our summer season has kicked off and the Mission Trips have begun. The Youth just returned from Atlanta GA, where they fed the homeless.

It sounds like they were all in shock that these kinds of living conditions exist in our country. Turner said there were 3- and 4-year-olds just roaming around, dirty and hungry. They were also craving some human contact and wanted Todd and Turner to hoist them around on their shoulders.

Thank you to the adults and youth that went forth and did God's work. It was very clear that everyone that went grew in their faith.

I will leave today going to Plymouth NC where we will work on homes that were damaged by Irene in 2010. I am going with a friend and we will work with a small crew but hope to have a big impact. Plymouth is one of the poorest counties in NC and the needs there are tremendous and I am looking forward to being able to serve.

The Adult Mission trip is coming up in August and we will be returning to Franklin WV and working on a Habitat Community. Please keep all of these missions in your prayers.

Thanks to Karen and Bill Poole and their Car Club for collecting shoes for Soles 4 Souls. At last count they were nearing 200 pairs so thank you to everyone who donated to this cause.

The missions committee will meet again on July 24. If you're interesting in being a part of this committee, come join us at 7:00.

Have a great summer and we encourage you to serve others!

PASTOR'S CORNER CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE

Thank you for trying the groups this year. I appreciate your willingness to get to know each other better. And thank you for being willing to get to know me. We continue to work in all kinds of directions. We are still playing with Sunday school (we've talked trailers and having the men build another shed!). We are developing our ability to use projections. We are learning some new songs. We've been serving the homeless at Safe Havens. And the Kitchen committee is hard at work. We are playing. Some things will work; some things will not. Some need to be tweaked. Thanks so for your input and again, thanks for being open. The gifts of God clearly live within you. I am thankful to be among you.

Serving Christ and each other....Teresa

A NOTE FROM THE LAY LISTENER: THANK THEM AND THANK YOU

DAVID BAILEY, LAY LISTENER

If we weren't paid for our work, would we still give our all? Would we even show up? Money is a strong motivator to determine how we spend our time and where we invest our hearts. If this is true, a non-profit entity, like the church, needs to pay attention to how volunteers, some of whom function as unpaid staff, are treated and retained.

No church can function unless members give their time. As Christians we are called to serve no matter the cost. However, that does not mean the church should treat people with disrespect or disregard. In fact, quite the opposite. We must be more sensitive to and considerate of those who are giving of their time and talent to help the church advance its mission and to serve others. Here are some new ways to look at the ministry of volunteers.

1. DON'T TAKE ANYONE FOR GRANTED. Some leaders lament a lack of devoted followers willing to give more time to the church and cite the "20 percent of the people do 80 percent of the work" statistic. But what about the 80 percent of the people who do 20 percent of the work? Too many churches take those people for granted. What would happen if the ushers didn't show up or if the choir stopped rehearsing? The reality is they don't have to serve. Every chance you get, thank volunteers, let them know their work matters and tell them how much they bring to the body of Christ. At Trinity 21% of active members are in a leadership role. Fully 52% of our regular attending members are involved in more than just attending.
2. ALWAYS HAVE A PLAN B. Children get sick, cars break down and sometimes, people simply forget. The Leaders need to consider what would happen if volunteers did not show up. For example: It's Sunday, and one of your nursery workers isn't there. Are you prepared? Do you have a "go-to" list of trained people for whom you have background checks? These people may not want a regular rotation in the nursery, yet may be willing to help when a need arises.
3. ASK: WHAT WOULD I DO IF MY VOLUNTEERS COULD NOT BE PRESENT? Doing this will limit the frustration and anger that sometimes accompany working with unpaid servants? It allows us to extend grace and compassion when people don't show.
4. REMEMBER: BETTER TOGETHER. An important part of the ethos of the church is community. Bring this into your philosophy of supporting volunteers, particularly if they do mundane tasks such as folding bulletins or mowing grass. It's more fun to work with a partner. Even the most boring task can become fun when you also build authentic relationships.

VBS IS COMING!

ANGIE RASMUSSEN, VBS DIRECTOR

VBS will be July 8th – 13th. This year we will serve dinner from 5:45-6:30 each evening, and then VBS will run from 6:30-8:15.

We will have the usual fun fare: crafts, great music, fun and games, and Bible stories. If you have not signed up to help, it is not too late. I can use your talents with helping our young participants with crafts and telling a Bible story.

We also still need some items for crafts, especially concrete. If you don't want to lug around those big bags, you can always give a donation to VBS. You can email me rasmussen.family@verizon.net or call me at 706-1518 if you have any questions.

I would like to thank everyone who has donated food items, crafts items and your time to this effort. I know my children always look forward to this week and have so much fun; that is because of you and your efforts. It takes a lot of people to pull this off and I'm very happy to be in a Church that answers that call.

YOUTH ATL MISSION TRIP

5. DON'T FORCE YOUR PASSION. Every leader has a passion for at least one cause. Leaders often want the congregation also to volunteer for that cause. If you cannot recruit tutors for the local school, it may be that is your passion, but not one your faith community shares. Don't force a vision that is not catching on. Find creative ways to encourage the congregation to understand the needs of the community, why tutoring is important and how they can make a difference by considering this vision. Before you begin thinking about new ministries, work with your congregation to explore your community's needs. Discover your church's calling and enhance outreach efforts by creating a church marketing plan.
6. LEAD BY EXAMPLE. Church Leaders need to discover their personal passion and give of themselves. Service to others is part of our United Methodist heritage. John Wesley spent his time ministering to those on the margins of society (prisoners, debtors in poorhouses, widows and those who frequented soup kitchens) and he called upon those who followed him to commit to serving the poor, a particularly important invitation since they were among the poor themselves. When pastors volunteer, we become servants. Pastors who serve in the community regularly are more understanding of and less judgmental toward those who serve as volunteers in their congregations. They go out of their way to say "thank you" and speak personally about how fulfilling it is to follow a passion and serve.

TUMW FALL BAZAAR – OCTOBER 19TH

BARBARA SMITH, UMW CHAIR

This year the fall bazaar will be held Friday October 19th, 2012 from 9 am to 7 pm. There will not be any Saturday hours. We are in need of any craft items you would like to donate. With the hot days ahead and spending more time inside, it might be a good time to gather with a few friends to work on some projects. Anything handmade will be greatly appreciated. We do however need to know what you are making so we can plan ahead. Please let Barbara Smith (bws621@comcast.net) Diane Springfield (dsf0419@aol.com) or Pam Soto (pumice@comcast.net) know by August 31st.

We will also be having the "nearly new" boutique again so begin to set your treasures aside for that now.

This year we will feature soups by the quart for purchase. Any other questions or concerns contact Barbara Smith at 748-4475.

MUSIC NEWS

PAT MADISON, DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

Thanks to our Cherubs, Angels, and Treble Clefs for their participation in Children's Sunday last month. We all had a good time watching you as you helped us all find "the key to Life"! Special Thanks to Beth Wilkes for the wonderful scenery and props and to Bob and Deborah Napolitano for their parts in the play!

We have a great chime choir which did a beautiful job on Children's Sunday. When you are making plans for next year, consider chime choir. Pat Shrader does a wonderful job teaching these children how to ring and read music.

To all youth- Mark Miller is the guest director for Youth Choir Jam this year. The dates for this event are November 16th and 17th at River Road Baptist Church. You won't want to miss Choir Jam this year. Mark is awesome!

The Trinity Chancel Choir will not rehearse on July 4th due to the holiday or on July 11th due to VBS. However, the Men's chorus is rehearsing at my house on July 5th in preparation for our performance on August 10th.

We will have "A Night of Music and Storytelling" on August 10th at 7:00 at the church. Linda Goodman will be telling some of her wonderful stories. Our Men's Chorus will be singing a few songs, both secular and sacred. Homemade desserts will be served. Donations will be taken to help pay for Cherub dinners in the fall. Please come and join us for the fun!

SHOES SHOES AND MORE SHOES

KAREN POOLE

Our shoe drive to collect new and gently used shoes for "Soles 4 Souls" was a huge success – better than I ever anticipated. I was hoping for 100 pairs, and we ended up with 264 pairs, which will be shipped to a distribution center in Tennessee to be dispersed to disaster victims in the U.S. and around the world. Thanks for your generous support of this project, and thank you to Paul Brown and ACF Environmental for shipping these 18 boxes of shoes for us – free of charge. The Trinity family always comes through whenever they hear of others in need.

..... AND NOW FOR SOME WINTER COAT NEWS

A partition has been installed in the large coat rack in the narthex so that the left-hand end will be for coats that your family can no longer wear and you would like to donate them to our on-going coat closet. The right-hand end will be for you to hang up your coat during the church service and be reasonably certain that it will be there when the service is over. A sign will be installed designating which end is which, and YES...any kind of coats can be brought at any time. If you know of someone needing one, please contact Karen Poole at 739-1615 or billandkaren@mindspring.com and I will tell you what is available.

LABEL DRIVE FOR HENRY FORK

IRENE CASSADA, 2012 TUMW TREASURER

The Henry Fork Service Center is a non-profit organization affiliated with the United Methodist Church ministering to the needs of children, youth and adults in the community of Rocky Mount, VA. For several years Trinity UMW have been helping Henry Fork by collecting Campbell's soup labels and other bonus labels toward getting a van through Labels for Education. We hope the goal of 1.6 million labels can be reached this year. Henry Fork needs 51,155 more labels for the van.

Thank you for any labels that you can donate. There is a collection box in the hallway. Go to www.labelsforeducation.com for more product information.

OUR CAMBODIAN FAMILY

BY KAREN POOLE

Lately you have heard us talking about Sea and Samoeun Por, but the newer members may not know our connection to this family so Rev. Teresa has asked me to give you the background.

In the early 1980's, Lilo Burley inspired our little church to rescue a family from a Cambodian refugee camp and bring them to Chesterfield. At that time, Trinity was a much smaller country church, which sat on the edge of the courthouse property. We were struggling financially and trying to find a way to build a new building. We did not yet have the history of mission outreach that we have today. With all that being said, it surely took the working of the Holy Spirit to help Lilo convince us to take on something so radical.

In June 1982, five strangers walked off an airplane at the Richmond airport. We were only expecting four ... the process had taken so long that Samoeun had her baby before they got here. They had their 15-year-old niece SokChea with them along with their 9-year-old son Sereyak, and now 1-year-old son Missme. The father was the only family member who spoke any English, and we certainly could not speak Khmer. They had never slept in a bed, had never had bathroom facilities or a kitchen with appliances, had never had a checking or bank account, could not drive a car, and had no worldly possessions, except the clothes on their backs and the contents of a small suitcase...they obviously would never have been able to survive in this country on their own. They were all like newborn babies, and we were suddenly in the role of adoptive parents. When we met Sea (pronounced "Sear") and Samoeun at the airport, Trinity was as nervous as you were when you brought your first baby home from the hospital.

POR, Sea & Samoeun

We left the family in a home on Mason Avenue in Chester that Trinity had rented and prayed that they would be okay for their first night in America. Over time, Trinity bought them clothes, furnished their home, took them to classes in English and American culture, took them to apply for jobs and to interviews, bought them their first transportation (a bicycle that Sea rode to his first job at Hardee's and Samoeun rode to her first job at the Holiday Inn), paid for Sea's driving lessons, helped him get his driver's license, gave them their first car (from the Carneys) ... and again the story goes on and on as "our babies" grew into successful adults. This is exactly what you have done as you have raised your children and watched them grow into adulthood. It must also be noted that the entire family became U.S. citizens in 1993.

The family became totally self-sufficient and soon increased again with the arrival of twin boys, Jeffrey and Larry. The years rolled on and the children grew. SokChea graduated in two years, got married and has 4 grown children - one a dental hygienist, one in the same program at MCV, and 2 others working in the cell phone industry. Sereyak is a Marine veteran who is married and has two elementary-age children. Missme manufactures counter tops and is married to a college math professor and has one daughter and a stepson. Larry works as a painter, and Jeffrey work for a refrigeration company. We are very proud of all of them.

Sea worked as our church custodian for three years until he found a full-time job, and then Samoeun took over that job. Sea worked for 13 years as a supervisor and forklift driver in a textile mill until it closed down. Three days later he started another job with a print manufacturing company where he drove a forklift and programmed and operated robotic machines. He worked there for 13 more years until it closed down last December. He lost the family health insurance and is still currently unemployed.

Not only did the children grow older, but Mom and Dad did too. Sea remains in excellent health, but Samoeun has developed asthma and allergies which make her unable to work any longer. This is where we have come back into the picture in much the same way you would have done when your children needed you. We are currently assisting Samoeun with disability forms, helping Sea apply for jobs, assisting with Samoeun's emergency medical bills, and searching for a way to secure health care for them.

As you can see, this family became our children...not friends, not church members, not neighbors...but our children just as surely as if we had given birth to each and every one of them. This family has always been very grateful for our assistance and have "paid it forward" by helping other Cambodian families come to America and make their dreams come true.

WHERE DID ALL THE SNACKS GO?

In case you have been wondering, the snacks have disappeared in an attempt to get people to Sunday school on time. The 8:30 worship runs the same hour and fifteen that the 11:00 runs. This means that Sunday school is being moved from 9:45 to 9:50. Class hopes to begin at 9:50 and continue until 10:30. Parents, please remember to collect your children. Sunday school is very important and our teachers work faithfully to prepare for class. So let's try to get there at the beginning.
